Bloomsbury WC1: Victorian Mansion Block

Built in 1890, this Victorian mansion block apartment had very large and very old sash windows. At nearly 120 years old, the windows did not match the smartly renovated apartment and needed attention.

Procedure: new sashes, secondary glazing and sound proofing

New double glazed sashes were fitted incorporating thermal and sound insulating glass. The original frames were renovated and decorated with new sashes fitted into the existing frames. The project also included fitting secondary glazing to improve sound insulation and a number of windows fitted with frosted glass to provide privacy.
